Overview of First Things First

On November 7, 2006, Arizonans made an historic decision on behalf of our state's youngest citizens. By majority vote, they made a commitment to all Arizona children 5 and younger, that children would have the tools they need to arrive at school healthy and ready to succeed. The voters backed that promise with an 80-cent per pack increase on tobacco products to provide dedicated and sustainable funding for early childhood services for our youngest children. The initiative created the statewide First Things First (FTF) board and the 31 regional partnership councils that share the responsibility of ensuring that these early childhood funds are spent on strategies that will result in improved education and health outcomes for kids 5 and younger.

First Things First is designed to meet the diverse needs of Arizona communities. The regional councils are comprised of community volunteers, with each member representing a specific segment of the community that has a role in ensuring that Arizona's children grow up to be ready for school, set for life: parents, leaders of faith communities, tribal representatives, educators, health professionals, business leaders, and philanthropists.

First Things First Strategic Direction

First Things First's commitment to young children means more than simply funding programs and services. It means having a shared vision about what being prepared for kindergarten actually means. First Things First specifies that programs and services funded by the FTF Board and Regional Partnership Councils are to address one or more of the following Goal Areas as defined by the statute:

- Improve the quality of early childhood development and health programs.
- Increase the access to quality early childhood development and health programs.
- Increase access to preventive health care and health screenings for children through age five.
- Offer parent and family support and education concerning early childhood development and literacy.
- Provide professional development and training for early childhood development and health providers.
- Increase coordination of early childhood development and health programs and provide public information about the importance of early childhood development and health.

The FTF Board established a strategic framework with a set of school readiness indicators that provide a comprehensive composite measure to show whether young children are ready for success as they prepare to enter kindergarten. The strategies funded by FTF work collectively to develop a comprehensive system across the state and regionally to address the school readiness indicators. The FTF Board and Regional Partnership Councils determine the priorities and strategies to be funded across the state and throughout the regions assessing the challenges and building on the resources and assets in place.

School Readiness Indicators

1. Number/Percent children demonstrating school readiness at kindergarten entry in the development domains of social-emotional, language and literacy, cognitive, and motor and physical
2. Number/Percent of children enrolled in an early care and education program with a Quality First rating of 3-5 stars
3. Number/Percent of children with special needs enrolled in an inclusive early care and education program with a Quality First rating of 3-5 stars
4. Number/Percent of families that spend no more than 10% of the regional median family income on quality care and education with a Quality First rating of 3-5 stars
5. Percent of children with newly identified developmental delays during the kindergarten year
6. Number of children entering kindergarten exiting preschool special education to regular education
7. Number/Percent of children ages 2-5 at a healthy weight (Body Mass Index-BMI)
8. Number/Percent of children receiving timely well child visits
9. Number/Percent of children age 5 with untreated tooth decay
10. Percent of families who report they are competent and confident about their ability to support their child's safety, health and well being

What is the Funding Source?

First Things First provides for distribution of funding through both statewide and regional grants. Statewide programs are considered those implemented across regional boundaries and are designed to benefit Arizona's children as a whole. Regional funding is based on the approval of the Regional Partnership Council funding plans submitted to the FTF Board each year.

First Things First awards grants to:

- Non-profit 501 (c) (3) organizations providing services in Arizona (both secular and faith-based)

Statement of Need

The relative newness of the infant-toddler mental health field results in a limited supply of licensed mental health clinicians (psychiatrist, psychologists, clinical social workers, mental health therapists) , and social service and early education professionals that have specialized expertise to work with infants, toddlers and their families. This workforce shortage impacts the availability of therapists prepared to serve the needs of young children and their parents in many communities throughout the state.

This shortage also affects the resources required to strengthen and improve child care and early education settings available through mental health consultation. Mental health consultation in early childhood settings is a problem-solving and capacity-building intervention implemented within a collaborative relationship between a professional mental health consultant and providers with other areas of expertise, primarily early care and education center staff. Early childhood mental health consultation aims to build the capacity (improve the ability) of staff, families, programs, and systems to prevent, identify, treat, and reduce the impact of mental health problems among children from birth through age five and their families.

Description of Strategy:

The intent of the statewide Mental Health Consultation (MHC) strategy is to fund an Administrative Home to:

1. Provide oversight for the provision of quality mental health consultation within First Things First Regions including reflective supervision of mental health consultants, mentoring and coaching¹;
2. Provide continuing education and skill building to mental health consultants serving First Things First Regions;
3. Implement a tuition support program to increase the number of mental health professionals that have the knowledge and skills to help early care and education professionals, families and other early childhood professionals in the community who support the mental health and social-emotional development of children five years and younger;
4. Lead the effort to establish a young child mental health workforce in Arizona in accordance with the First Things First standards of practice for mental health consultation.

The Mental Health Consultation Administrative home will:

- Develop a region specific plan with each Regional Partnership Council to implement mental health consultation for regulated early care and education providers and other early childhood service providers. This written region specific plan shall include the mental health consultation services to be provided in early childhood program settings including early care and education centers and homes.
- Provide qualified mental health consultants regionally either through direct employment or through subcontracts with behavioral health service providers in the region.
 - a. Priority will be given to those applicants who submit a strong plan that ensures that local entities housed within the participating regions are utilized as service providers to the extent possible.

¹ First things First Statewide funding will fund the oversight and other administrative and operating responsibilities and Regional Council funding will support the professional mental health consultation staff.

- b. In the case where local subcontractors are not available or appropriate, priority will then be given to those applicants who submit a strong plan to hire qualified personnel who live and work in the participating regions.
 - c. Priority will be given to applicants that include efforts to provide culturally competent and tribal specific services within the regions.
- Collaborate with other regional and statewide behavioral health providers including the Department of Health Services Division of Behavioral Health Services to achieve a strong and accessible early childhood system of providers and services that support the mental health and social-emotional health of children birth through age five.
- Mental Health Consultation is one component of specialized technical assistance in the Quality First program. The grantee will provide staff for Quality First Specialized Technical Assistance resulting from the warm line referrals.
 - This includes a warm-line for Quality First participating providers and coaches to contact expert consultants for assistance in addressing more challenging behavioral issues in child care settings. It also includes identifying community referral resources for non-QF participants who call the warmline. Successful applicant(s) for this grant will be required to coordinate with the administrative home for the warm line RFGA (expected to be awarded through the RFGA issued by First Things First for Quality First Specialized Technical Assistance RFGA # FTF-STATE-13-0351-00) to assure that coordinated telephone technical assistance services are delivered through qualified personnel to staff referred calls related to mental health and social-emotional development of children. (See Exhibit A).
- Implement a tuition support program to increase the number of mental health professionals that have the knowledge and skills to help early care and education professionals, families and other early childhood professionals in the community who support the mental health and social-emotional development of children five years and younger;
- Create and maintain a data base of individuals who meet qualifications to perform the MHC role and responsibilities as described by First Things First (FTF) Mental Health Consultation Scope of Work and are potentially available for employment in FTF Regions. The data base will include name, contact information, academic degrees and date of completion, graduate education or other course work or training in the field of early childhood mental health, early childhood development other relevant experience or continuing education.
- Provide ongoing reflective supervision, mentoring, and coaching to assure the highest quality performance in the delivery of mental health consultation
- Develop and implement procedures that will assure the highest quality performance in the delivery of mental health consultation by all subcontractors of the grantee.
- Provide community based seminars and other skill building workshops to early care and education providers and other professionals delivering services to children under age 5, for the purpose of continuing education and training at least four times annually. Content must be related to specific services to early care and education and young children's needs, such as those contained in the Pyramid Model modules or teaching and training modules developed by WestEd to ensure best practice in every setting where mental health consultation is provided. Educational and skill building shall be held in locations that maximize participation of mental health consultants in FTF regions.

- Disseminate informational and educational materials as needed and/or requested to support the delivery of mental health consultation services in early care and education settings.
- Ensure effective implementation of FTF coordination and service delivery protocols related to working with Quality First centers and homes and ensure that all contractors comply with the appropriate procedures.
- Conduct outreach activities which will inform communities about the importance of mental health consultation as an element of quality improvement in child care. Comply with all FTF protocols for the development and dissemination of materials funded by FTF.
- Be available to present information regarding mental health consultation in a wide variety of settings such as community group meetings, organizations that provide monitoring or resources to early care and education programs, and state or national conferences related to mental health consultation.
- Attend required grantee orientation meetings and/or other FTF meetings related to service delivery.
- Comply with First Things First requirements for data collection and submission.
- Be able to expand the program for Regional Partnership Councils that may choose to include future strategies that advance mental health consultation to other areas of the state as well as for those Regional Partnership Councils currently participating that choose to expand services within the regional area.

Early childhood mental health consultant responsibilities include the following:

- On-site consultation services to early care and education teachers and providers to build their competence around forming responsive relationships, using curriculum to teach, provide for intentional teaching of social emotional competence, and understanding working with families in collaborative partnerships.
- Collaborate with other First Things First early childhood education consultants including child care health consultants, Quality First coaches and inclusion coaches of children with special needs as applicable during goal setting and quality improvement planning for assigned participants. Joint collaboration activities may include but is not limited to:
 - a. Joint visits with the participant
 - b. Planning visits with the early childhood education consultants
 - c. Feedback and input in the Quality Improvement Plan and/or Quality Rating Plan
 - d. Sharing of training resources and materials
- Ongoing training activities for teachers, other early care and education staff, and families that enhance care givers' capacities to attend to the emotional well-being of children.
- Conduct screening and assessments within the context of the early care and education setting of children identified as potentially needing more intensive services.
- Family consultation – including facilitating communication between teachers and families.
- Referrals to clinical and assessment services to children and families, such as therapeutic groups, neurodevelopment assessment, and dyadic child-parent psychotherapy.

Tuition Reimbursement

In order to address the shortage of professionals with the requisite skills and abilities to support the mental health and social-emotional development of children five years and younger; the administrative home will develop and manage a tuition reimbursement program for continuing education and achieving advanced certifications. Mental health practitioners will submit an application to First Things First's Tuition Reimbursement Program through the administrative home in order to receive reimbursement for tuition costs to complete coursework/curricula leading to a credential or endorsement. FTF Sr. Director for Children's Health will review and approve of the application.

- Financial support will reimburse tuition costs (resident) at state universities or approved in-state early childhood mental health institutes for post graduate study leading to early childhood mental health credential, endorsement or and additional Master's Degree.
- Applicants who choose to accept the financial assistance must commit to two years of service working with the birth through five populations in Arizona for every year of financial assistance.
- Practicum experiences must include working with children birth through age five to gain specific expertise and knowledge to work with children in this age range and their parents or early care and education providers.
- Up to one-half of tuition may be reimbursed at the time of enrollment and payment of fees with the remainder of tuition costs reimbursed at successful completion of the program and awarding of the credential, endorsement or degree.
- Reports of progress and performance in the program for which tuition will be reimbursed will be submitted to the FTF Mental Health Consultation Administrative Home.

Successful applicants will utilize additional criteria that has been developed in coordination with First Things First including:

- Process for selecting applicants
- List of potential eligible programs
- Upper limit of tuition that will be reimbursed
- Penalties for not fulfilling the commitment to work within the early childhood field for a specific time period as a condition of accepting the tuition reimbursement.
- Coordinate with First Things First on the development of criteria and procedures for the implementation of a tuition reimbursement component.
- Process to track the completion of the commitment to provide service.

Target Population to serve

Early childhood professionals working in licensed and regulated center-based early care and education programs and family child care homes. They include those participating in Quality First and those on the Quality First wait list if funded by Regional Councils for individuals in their regions. Non-Quality First child care providers can call into the warm line for information and referral.

Geographic Area

The Regional Partnership Councils that included funding strategies for FTF Mental Health Consultation that are involved at the time of release for this Request for Grant Application include:

- Pinal

- Central Maricopa
- Northeast Maricopa
- Northwest Maricopa
- Salt River Pima Maricopa Indian Community
- Southeast Maricopa
- Central Phoenix
- North Phoenix
- South Phoenix
- Yavapai
- Central Pima
- North Pima
- Yuma

First Things First will fund the successful Applicant(s) to administer the program and the successful Applicant(s) will be responsible to serve the target population in thirty-one (31) Regional Partnership Councils across the state. The successful Applicant(s) must have the ability to administer the program should additional First Things First Regional Partnership Councils choose to fund this strategy in their regions or if participating Regional Partnership Councils increase or decrease funding to this strategy. Not all Regional Councils participate in all strategies; however, the participation may change throughout any given funding period or in renewal if options are exercised thus the geographic boundaries are statewide. Regional Partnership Councils may choose to participate or change participation in this strategy and the successful Applicant(s) will be required to fulfill implementation needs based on this important element of Regional Council participation.

Coordination and Collaboration

First Things First prioritizes coordination and collaboration among early childhood service providers as critical to developing a seamless service delivery system for children and families. As a result of coordination and collaboration, services are often easier to access and are implemented in a manner that is more responsive to the needs of the children and families. Coordination and collaboration may also result in greater capacity to deliver services because organizations are working together to identify and address gaps in service. Successful Applicants must demonstrate capacity to work with and participate in coordination and collaboration activities occurring within the First Things First region being served. This may include but is not limited to participating in regular meetings. Depending upon the strategy, there may be additional statewide meetings which the Applicant may be asked to attend, as noted in the Scope of Work. In order to accomplish this, Applicants should plan the appropriate staffing and budget to support travel to and attendance at monthly meetings within the regional area or statewide meetings, as appropriate.

Program Specific Data Collection and First Things First Evaluation

Successful Applicants agree to participate in the FTF evaluation and any program specific evaluation or research efforts. Data collection and FTF evaluation activities are directly connected with the Goals, Performance Measures and Units of Service aligned to the strategy described in this RFGA.

Unit of Service and related Target Service Number Definition:

A Unit of Service is a FTF designated indicator of performance specific to each FTF strategy. It is composed of a unit of measure and a number (Target Service Number). A Unit of Measure/Service can be a target population and/or a service/product that a grantee is expected to serve as part of an agreement. The Target Service Number represents the number of units (e.g. target population) proposed to be served or number of products/services proposed to be delivered during the contract year.

For example, for the FTF strategy Home Visitation the FTF Unit of Service is “number of families served” and a Target Service Number of 50 represents the number of families the Applicant proposes to serve during the contract period. All FTF applicants must clearly state in the proposal a target service number for each strategy specific Unit of Service.

Performance Measures Definition:

Performance Measures measure (1) key indicators of performance (i.e. Unit of Service); (2) basic implementation of strategy; (3) alignment of program activities to strategy specific standards of practice, (4) performance or progress toward pre-established strategic goals. Performance measures may include the level or type of program activities conducted (e.g. serving families/children through home visits) and/or the direct services and products delivered by a program (e.g., providing scholarships).

Successful Applicants must have capacity to collect and submit FTF data requirements, securely and confidentially store client data, and utilize data to assess progress in achieving desired outcomes of the proposed strategy. Units of Service, Target Service Numbers, and Performance Measures outline how quarterly data submissions will be evaluated according to the contracted deliverables and standards of practice for that contract. Additionally, they are used by FTF to determine the key impacts of the strategies, programs and approaches being implemented.

All successful Applicants will be provided with data reporting requirements by FTF and will meet the requirements of the FTF evaluation including, but not limited to, timely and regular reporting and cooperation with all FTF evaluation activities. Timely and regular reporting of all performance and evaluation data includes the electronic submission of data (as identified in data reporting templates designed for each strategy) through the FTF secure web portal known as PGMS.

Successful Applicants are required to collaborate with the FTF external evaluation if it is being included. Collaborative activities may include tracking and reporting data pertaining to participant attendance, enrollment, and demographic information. In addition, Applicants agree to allow FTF and evaluation consultants of FTF to observe program activities on site and successful applicants must collaborate with FTF led and initiated evaluation activities to encourage parent consent for data collection. Data Security Guidelines can be found in Exhibit D.

Units of Service and Performance Measures that are aligned to the Goal for the purposes of this RFGA are as follows:

Unit of Service:

For Mental Health Consultation, the units of service are:

- Number of home based providers served
- Number of center based providers served
- Number of tuition reimbursements distributed

Performance Measures:

For Mental Health Consultation, performance measures are:

- Number of home based providers served/proposed service number
- Number of center based providers served/proposed service number

- Number of early care professionals receiving professional development
- Number of professional development sessions offered
- Number of programmatic and individual action plans implemented

Instructions to Applicants

A. Inquiries

1. Duty to Examine. It is the responsibility of each Applicant to examine the entire RFGA, seek clarification in writing (inquiries), and examine its' Application for accuracy before submitting the Application. Lack of care in preparing an Application shall not be grounds for modifying or withdrawing the Application after the Application due date and time, nor shall it give rise to any Contract claim.

2. RFGA Contact Person. Any inquiry related to an RFGA, including any requests for or inquiries regarding standards referenced in the RFGA shall be directed solely to the RFGA contact person. The Applicant shall not contact or direct inquiries concerning this RFGA to any other State employee unless the RFGA specifically identifies a person other than the RFGA contact person as a contact.
3. Submission of Inquiries. The Fiscal and Contracts Specialist identified in this RFGA, who is the contact for all inquiries except at the Pre-Application Conference, requires that an inquiry be submitted in writing. Any inquiry related to the RFGA shall refer to the appropriate RFGA number, page and paragraph. Do not place the RFGA number on the outside of the envelope containing that inquiry, since it may then be identified as an Application and not be opened until after the Application due date and time. Electronic inquiries are acceptable. First Things First shall consider the relevancy of the inquiry but is not required to respond in writing.
4. Timeliness. Any inquiry or exception to the RFGA shall be submitted as soon as possible and should be submitted at least seven days before the Application due date and time for review and determination by First Things First. Failure to do so may result in the inquiry not being considered for an RFGA Amendment.
5. No Right to Rely on Verbal Responses. An Applicant shall not rely on verbal responses to inquiries. A verbal reply to an inquiry does not constitute a modification of the RFGA.
6. RFGA Amendments. The RFGA shall only be modified by a formal written RFGA amendment. Formal written amendments are posted on the First Things First website, www.azftf.gov. It is the sole responsibility of the Applicant to check the website regularly.
7. Pre-Application Conference. A Pre-Application Conference has been scheduled for this RFGA and specific date, time and location are found on Page 2 of this RFGA. Applicants should raise any questions about the RFGA at that time. The Pre-Application Conference will clarify the contents of the RFGA in order to prevent any misunderstanding of First Things First's position. Any doubt as to the requirements of the RFGA or any apparent omission or discrepancy should be presented to First Things First at the Conference. An Applicant may not rely on any verbal responses to questions at the Conference. Material issues raised at the Conference that result in changes to the RFGA shall be answered solely through a formal written RFGA amendment. Attendance at the Pre-Application Conference is strongly encouraged, but not mandatory.
8. Persons with Disabilities. Persons with a disability may request a reasonable accommodation, such as a sign language interpreter, by contacting the RFGA contact person. Requests shall be made as early as possible to allow time to arrange the accommodation.

Any exceptions not included in such a section shall be without force and effect in any resulting Contract unless such exception is specifically accepted by the Fiscal and Contracts Specialist in a written statement. The Applicant’s preprinted or standard terms will not be considered by First Things First as a part of any resulting Contract. The certificates for each insurance policy are to be signed by a person authorized by that insurer to bind coverage on its behalf.
- F. All certificates and endorsements are to be received and approved by the State of Arizona before work commences. Each insurance policy required by this Contract must be in effect at or prior to commencement of work under this Contract and remain in effect for the duration of the project. Failure to maintain the insurance policies as required by this Contract, or to provide evidence of renewal, is a material breach of contract.

- G. All certificates required by this Contract shall be sent directly to (First Things First, Fiscal and Contracts Specialist, 4000 N. Central, Suite 800, Phoenix, AZ 85012). The State of Arizona project/contract number and project description shall be noted on the certificate of insurance. The State of Arizona reserves the right to require complete, certified copies of all insurance policies required by this Contract at any time. DO NOT SEND CERTIFICATES OF INSURANCE TO THE STATE OF ARIZONA'S RISK MANAGEMENT SECTION.
- H. SUBCONTRACTORS: Grantees' certificate(s) shall include all subcontractors as insureds under its policies or Grantee shall furnish to the State of Arizona separate certificates and endorsements for each subcontractor. All coverages for subcontractors shall be subject to the minimum requirements identified above.
- I. APPROVAL: Any modification or variation from the insurance requirements in this Contract shall be made by the Department of Administration, Risk Management Section, whose decision shall be final. Such action will not require a formal Contract amendment, but may be made by administrative action.
- J. EXCEPTIONS: In the event the Grantee or sub-contractor(s) is/are a public entity, then the Insurance Requirements shall not apply. Such public entity shall provide a Certificate of Self-Insurance. If the Grantee or sub-contractor(s) is/are a State of Arizona agency, board, commission, or university, none of the above shall apply.

5.4 Force Majeure. If either party hereto is delayed or prevented from the performance of any act required in this Agreement due to acts of God, strikes, lockouts, labor disputes, civil disorder, or other causes without fault and beyond the control of the party obligated, performance of or payment for such act will be excused for the period of the delay.

5.5 Third Party Antitrust Violations. The Grantee assigns to First Things First any claim for cover charges resulting from antitrust violations to the extent that those violations concern materials or services supplied by third parties to the Grantee, toward fulfillment of this Contract.

6. Compliance

6.1 Compliance with Applicable Laws. The services supplied under this Contract shall comply with all applicable Federal, state and local laws, and the Grantee shall maintain all applicable licenses and permit requirements.

6.2 Sectarian Requests. Funds may not be expended for any sectarian purpose or activity, including sectarian worship or instructions.

6.3 Restrictions on Lobbying. The Grantee shall not use these funds to pay for, influence, or seek to influence any officer or employee of First Things First, state government or the federal government if that action may have an impact, of any nature, on this contract.

6.4 Licenses. Grantee shall maintain in current status all federal, state and local licenses and permits required for the operation of the business conducted by the Grantee.

6.5 Fingerprinting. Pursuant to A.R.S. §41-1758 Grantee will obtain fingerprint cards and/or background checks as applicable.

This Contract may be cancelled or terminated if the fingerprint check or the certified form of any person who is employed by a provider, whether paid or not, and who is required or allowed to provide services directly to children, discloses that a person has committed any act of sexual abuse of a child, including sexual exploitation or commercial sexual exploitation, or any act of child abuse or that the person has been convicted of or awaiting trial on any criminal offenses in this state or similar offenses in another state or jurisdiction.

7. State's Contractual Remedies

7.1 Right to Assurance. If First Things First in good faith has reason to believe that the Grantee does not intend to, or is unable to perform or continue performing under this Contract, the Fiscal and Contracts Specialist may demand in writing that the Grantee give a written assurance of intent to perform. Failure by the Grantee to provide written assurance within the number of Days specified in the demand may be, at First Things First's discretion, the basis for terminating the Contract under the First Things First Uniform Terms and Conditions or other rights and remedies available by law or provided by the contract.

7.2 Cancellation for Failure to Perform. Failure by the Grantee to adhere to any provision of this Agreement or its Attachments in the time and manner provided by this Contract or its Attachments shall constitute a material default and breach of this Contract and First Things First may cancel, at its option, this Agreement upon prior written notice.

First Things First may issue a written ten (10) day notice of default to the Grantee for acting or failing to act including but not limited to any of the following:

- The Grantee fails to perform adequately the services required in this Agreement.
- The Grantee fails to furnish the required product or services within the time stipulated in this Agreement.
- The Grantee fails to make progress in the performance of the requirements of the Agreement and/or gives a positive indication that the Grantee will not or cannot perform to the requirements of this Agreement.

If the Grantee does not correct any problem(s) within ten (10) days after receiving the notice of default, First Things First may cancel the Contract. If First Things First cancels the Contract pursuant to this clause, First Things First reserves all rights or claims to damage for breach of the Contract and the Grantee agrees to a general release in favor of First Things First for any claim for reimbursement.

7.3 Non-Exclusive Remedies The rights and the remedies of First Things First under this Contract are not exclusive.

8. Contract Termination

8.1 Cancellation for Conflict of Interest. Pursuant to A.R.S. §38-511, First Things First may cancel this Contract within three (3) years after Contract execution without penalty or further obligation if any person significantly involved in initiating, negotiating, securing, drafting or creating the Contract on behalf of First Things First is or becomes at any time while the Contract or an extension of the Contract is in effect an employee of or a consultant to any other party to this Contract with respect to the subject matter of the Contract. The cancellation shall be effective when the Grantee receives written notice of the cancellation unless the notice specifies a later time. If the Grantee is a political subdivision of the State of Arizona, it may also cancel this Contract as provided in A.R.S. §38-511.

- 8.2 Suspension or Debarment. First Things First may, by written notice to the Grantee, immediately terminate this Contract if First Things First determines that the Grantee has been debarred, suspended or otherwise lawfully prohibited from participating in any public procurement activity, including but not limited to, being disapproved as a subcontractor of any public procurement unit or other governmental body. Submittal of an Application or execution of a contract shall attest that the Grantee is not currently suspended or debarred. If the Grantee becomes suspended or debarred, the Grantee shall immediately notify First Things First.
- 8.3 Termination for Convenience. First Things First reserves the right to terminate the Contract, in whole or in part at any time, when in the best interests of First Things First without penalty or recourse. Upon receipt of the written notice, the Grantee shall stop all work, as directed in the notice, notify all subcontractors of the effective date of the termination and minimize all further costs to First Things First. In the event of termination under this paragraph, all documents, data and reports prepared by the Grantee under the Contract shall become the property of and be delivered to First Things First upon demand. The Grantee shall be entitled to receive just, equitable compensation for work in progress, work completed, and materials accepted before the effective date of the termination. The cost principles and procedures provided in A.A.C. R2-7-701 shall apply.
- 8.4 Termination for Default. In addition to the rights reserved in the contract, First Things First may terminate the Contract in whole or in part due to the failure of the Grantee to comply with any term or condition of the Contract, to acquire and maintain all required insurance policies, bonds, licenses and permits, or to make satisfactory progress in performing the Contract. First Things First shall provide written notice of the termination to the Grantee. Upon termination under this paragraph, all materials, documents, data and reports prepared by the Grantee under the Contract shall become the property of and be delivered to First Things First on demand. Upon termination of this Contract, First Things First may procure, on terms and in the manner that it deems appropriate, materials or services to replace those under this Contract. Attachment E and F Instructions

How to Complete the Line Item Budget and Budget Narrative

Complete a 12-month line item budget for the period July 1, 2012 through June 30, 2013 using the template provided in Attachment E. Please make sure you include a budget narrative, Attachment F.

Please keep in mind items described in a line item budget and in more detail in the budget narrative should describe how the costs were determined and the public purpose for the cost related successfully implementing the project. Please assure that all requested funds follow these guidelines:

- Be necessary and reasonable for proper and efficient performance and administration of First Things First funds.
- Be authorized or not prohibited under State or local laws or regulations.
- Be consistent with policies, regulations, and procedures that apply uniformly to all costs charged and expended by the agency – consistent treatment of costs.
 - For example – a cost may not be assigned to another grant award as an indirect cost if any other cost incurred for the same purposes in like circumstances has been allocated to the First Things First award as a direct cost.
 - For example – a cost for a certain type of expense is charged one rate to another source of funding and a different rate to First Things First - this would not be consistent treatment of costs.
- Be determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.
- Be adequately documented.
- All travel related costs for these trainings and meetings should be included in the Applicant's budget and calculated using the State of Arizona travel rate limitations for mileage, per diem and lodging as described on the budget narrative worksheet. For more information about the state requirements, visit <http://www.gao.az.gov/travel/>.
- Requests for line item modifications, which do not change the total program funding, shall be requested in writing and shall only be made following receipt of written authorization from First Things First.

Please note the line items included in the budget template represent the types of costs possible for a line item budget these line items may or may not be applicable or appropriate for your Application. Your budget line items requested must fit within one of the categories listed. However, it is expected that you would not need to utilize all of the sample line items.

Attachment E – Line Item Budget

While you must use this format, you may reproduce it with Word Processing or Spreadsheet software. Limit your budget line items to the following categories: Personnel, Fringe Benefits, Professional Services, Travel, Pass-Through (i.e. Sub grants), Other Operating Expenses and Administrative/Indirect Costs.

Attachment F – Budget Narrative

The purpose of the budget narrative is to provide more clarity and detail on the various budget line items. The budget narrative should explain the criteria used to compute the budget figures on the budget form. Please verify that the narrative and budget form correspond and the calculations and totals are accurate.

Personnel Services: Include information such as position title(s), name of employee (if known), salary, time to be spent on this program (hours or %), number of months assigned to this program, etc. Explain how the salary rate for each position was determined. If salaries are expected to increase during the project year, indicate the percentage increases for each position and justify the percent of the salary increase. Also, be sure to include the scheduled salary increases on the Budget Form.

Employee Related Expenses: Include a benefit percentage and what expenses make up employee benefit costs. Indicate any special rates for part-time employees, if applicable. Explain how the benefits for each position were determined. If using a fringe benefit rate, explain how this percentage is justified or approved by your agency.

Professional and Outside Services: If professional consultants/services costs are proposed in the budget, define how the costs for these services were determined and the justification for the services related to the project. Explain how all contracts will be procured.

Travel: Separate travel that is in-state and out-of-state. Include a detailed breakdown of hotel, transportation, meal costs, etc. Indicate the location(s) of travel, the justification for travel, how many employees will attend and how the estimates have been determined. Explain the relationship of each cost item to the project (e.g., if training or training expenses are requested, explain the topic of the training and its relationship to the project). Applicants must use the State of Arizona Travel Policy on rates limitations for mileage, lodging, and meals (<http://www.gao.az.gov/travel/> for both in-state and out-of-state travel.

Aid to Organizations or Individuals: In the event that this application represents collaboration and the contract will be utilizing other sub grantees or subcontractors to perform various components of the program, include a list of sub grantees, programmatic work each sub grantee will perform, and how costs for each sub grantee are determined.

Other Operating Expenses: Explain each item to be purchased, how the costs were determined and justify the need for the items. All purchases should be made through competitive bid or using established purchasing procedures. All items should be categorized in the following categories: Telephones / Communications Services, Internet Access, General Office Supplies, Food, Rent/Occupancy, Evaluation (non-contracted and non-personnel expenses), Utilities, Furniture, Postage, Software (including IT supplies), Dues/Subscriptions, Advertising, Printing/Copying, Equipment Maintenance, Professional Development/Staff Training, Conference Workshops/ Training Fees for Staff, Insurance, Program Materials, Program Supplies, Scholarships, and Program Incentives

Non-Capital Equipment: For items with a unit cost less than $5,000 and an initial estimated useful life beyond a single year, explain each item to be purchased, how the costs were determined and justify the need for the items. All purchases should be made through competitive bid or using established purchasing procedures. For example, items such as computers, printers, projectors, etc. each with a unit cost less than $5,000.

Administrative/Indirect Costs: Administrative costs are general or centralized expenses of overall administration of an organization that receives grant funds and does not include particular program costs. For organizations that have an established federally approved indirect cost rate for Federal awards, indirect costs mean those costs that are included in the organization's indirect cost rate. Such costs are generally identified with the organization's overall operation and are further described in 2 CFR 220, 2 CFR 225, and 2 CFR 230.

Applicants must list either Option A or Option B and provide proper justification for expenses included:

- Option A - Administrative Costs: with proper justification, sub grantees may include an allocation for administrative costs for up to 10% of the total direct costs requested of the grant request. Administrative costs may include allocable direct charges for: costs of financial, accounting, auditing, contracting or general legal services; costs of internal evaluation, including overall organization's management improvement costs; and costs of general liability insurance that protects the organization(s) responsible for operating a project, other than insurance costs solely attributable to the project. Administrative costs may also include that portion of salaries and benefits of the project's director and other administrative staff not attributable to the time spent in support of a specific project.

OR

- Option B - Federally Approved Indirect Costs: If your organization has a federally approved indirect cost rate agreement in place, grantees may include an allocation for indirect costs for up to 10% of the direct costs. Applicants must provide a copy of their federally approved indirect cost rate agreement.

Indirect costs are costs of an organization that are not readily assignable to a particular project, but are necessary to the operation of the organization and the performance of the project. The cost of operating and maintaining facilities, depreciation, and administrative salaries are examples of the types of costs that are usually treated as indirect.

Warm Line Description

It is important that early care and education centers and family child care homes have access to information and resources which will improve their ability to serve young children and their families. Currently, in many areas of the state these providers do not have access to specialists in the areas of early childhood health, mental health, early learning and inclusion of children with special needs. Quality First, Arizona's signature quality rating and improvement system, has made great strides in assisting participating center-based early care and education programs and family child care homes to move to higher levels of quality as determined by the Quality Rating Scale. Quality First Coaches have been instrumental in assisting with this quality improvement, but additional specialized expertise in certain areas of development and practice are anticipated to promote even higher quality. In addition, research shows that reaching the higher levels of 4 to 5 stars requires specialized training and support to help early childhood providers balance emotional support with implementation of intentional instructional strategies.

To meet this need, a toll-free phone service (called a "Warm line") will link Quality First early childhood programs and coaches to specialized information and guidance about children's social-emotional development, physical health, instructional support to promote early learning, and inclusion of children with special needs.

The warm line includes:

A Provider referral warm line providing access to specialized telephone consultation by First Things First contractors for Child Care Health Consultation (CCHC), Inclusion Special Needs, Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation (MHC) and Instructional Support. Community resources will be provided to any early care and education provider who calls, while more in-depth consultation services will be available to:

- Center-based early care and education programs and family child care homes enrolled in Quality First;
- Professionals such as Quality First Coaches and Child Care Health Consultants; and
- Center-based early care and education programs and family child care homes which receive FTF regional funding for Child Care Health Consultation and Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation.

Calls will be answered by qualified professionals during regular business hours and then triaged as appropriate, depending upon the type of caller and the issue. Successful triage will require First Things First grantees (partners) for Quality First Coaching, CCHC, Inclusion of Children with Special Needs, Instructional Support and MHC to deliver the warm line services as described below.

The Warm line will offer statewide telephonic expert information resources and specialized technical assistance to Quality First coaches and participants. It will also be a mechanism to connect any caller with appropriate community resources, training opportunities and/or available regional and statewide services. The Warm line is not a “tip line”, rather it is a portal to individualized consultation that involves listening to and discussing each caller’s need(s), linking them to experts in the field and providing resources and referrals appropriate to each caller.

Standards of Practice Mental Health Consultation

I. Description of Health Strategy Issue

Early childhood mental health consultation aims to build the capacity (and improve the abilities) of early learning programs, staff, and families to prevent, identify, and reduce the impact of social-emotional development problems among young children (Cohen & Kaufmann, 2000).

Consultation involves a collaborative relationship between a professional who has expertise in the social-emotional development of young children and other early care and education professionals. Specifically, early childhood mental health consultation is a service made available to early care and education providers—not a therapeutic service delivered directly to a child or family (Brennan, Bradley, Allen, & Perry, 2008). Innovative ways to improve the quality of early care and education are necessary to effectively enhance the experiences young children have in various child care settings.

Whatever the child care setting, it is the quality of the relationships between the adults and the children that either significantly enrich or detract from a child's experiences. Although relationships are important in most professions, relationships in child care directly shape a young child's growth and development – for better or worse. As more young children, especially infants and toddlers spend longer hours in early care and education programs, it is critical that their relationships with caregivers and teachers are positive, nurturing and responsive in order to promote their healthy social and emotional development. Mental health consultation works to enhance all of the relationships in an early care and education program, with special attention paid to those between caregivers, teachers and children.

Research also tells us that investing in very young children's social and emotional health is an effective strategy in preparing them for success in both school and in life (Raver & Knitzer, 2002). Mental health consultation is one of the valuable investments many states are making in order to decrease negative outcomes, such as preschool expulsion, and increase positive outcomes, such as being competent problem solvers and confident learners.

Teachers and other child care professionals often cite children's problem behavior as one of the most challenging issues with which they are presented (Center for Evidence Based Practices, 2005; NICHD Early Child Care Research Network, 2006). The alarming statistics on preschool expulsion rates provide compelling evidence that early care and education program staff need increased assistance in addressing children's healthy social and emotional development (Perry, Dunne, McFadden, & Campbell, 2007). Preschool expulsion is one of the strongest indicators that a child is on a developmental pathway that could lead to negative outcomes later in life (Moffitt, 1993; Patterson, DeBaryshe, & Ramsey, 1989). Early, unaddressed behavior problems may be an indicator of a larger concern which in turn may lead to serious juvenile delinquency in the adolescent years and evolve into a stable pattern of adult offending (Moffitt, Caspi, Dickson, Silva, & Stanton, 1996).

Two recent studies provide data on what can happen when early care and education providers are not equipped to cope with the growing demands of young children with challenging behaviors (Gilliam, 2005; Gilliam & Shahar, 2006). Gilliam and Shahar (2006) examined expulsion rates and predictors of expulsion from preschool programs in Massachusetts. More than one-third of the teachers reported having expelled at least one preschool child in the past 12 months; Head Start teachers, who often have access to mental health consultation, were less likely than for-profit or non-profit child care centers to have expelled at least one child. Teachers with high levels of job stress or depressive symptoms were more likely to expel children while teachers with a high sense of work satisfaction were less likely to expel children. One of the most surprising findings was that the rate of expulsion from preschool in Massachusetts was more than 34 times the State's rate for expelling school-aged children K-12.

Access to mental health consultation was also found to be associated with lower rates of expulsion. Programs that reported on-site access to a psychologist or social worker expelled 5.7 children per 1,000; compared to somewhat higher expulsion rates than those with occasional or no access to mental health consultation.

FTF Model of Consultancy

1. Foundational service is available through a warm phone line to all ECE, health providers and parents.
2. Quality First Consultant & intensive interventions are supported/purchased at the individual regional level:
 - On-site consultation services to early care and education staff to build their competence around forming responsive relationships, using curriculum to teach, provide for intentional teaching of social emotional competence, and understanding working with families in collaborative partnerships.
 - Training activities for early care and education teachers, other staff, and families that enhance teachers' and caregivers' capacities to attend to the emotional well-being of children.
 - Conduct screening and assessments within the context of the early care and education setting of children identified as potentially needing more intensive services.

- Family consultation – including facilitating communication between teachers, caregivers and families.
- Provide referrals to clinical and assessment services to children and families, such as therapeutic groups, neurodevelopment assessment, and dyadic child-parent psychotherapy.

The success of consultation depends on the consultant’s ability to develop an alliance with early care and education teachers, providers and families. Within this alliance, they work to understand what children need and how best to provide it.

A hallmark of the effort is respect for the teacher, children and families. However, forming such an alliance takes time and depends on the establishment of a predictable, protective atmosphere of learning. Not only must the mental health consultant understand concerns about particular children or programs, but also strive to understand the early care and education provider’s experience and appreciate the stresses experienced by staff members, their readiness to engage in the learning process, and their particular professional and cultural views about childrearing.

II. Implementation Standards

Mental Health Consultation includes the following:

- Assess the center or learning environment.
- Directly observe children and the early care and education environment.
- Develop an approach to strengthen the quality of the program related to providing for children’s social emotional competence including staff development plans.
- Develop opportunities for staff to discuss their concerns and to examine how stress affects their work.
- Educate staff on children’s development of social emotional competence. Provide a forum to explore cultural differences and workplace conflicts.
- Educate staff on and support them in developing nurturing, responsive relationships with children and families.
- Support staff in designing teaching strategies that effectively promote children’s development of specific social emotional skills (such as turn-taking, friendship skills, problem-solving, etc.).
- Providing a “safe” space in which staff members can identify, examine and discuss their feelings about their relationships with children and families.
- Conduct individual child observations.
- Design and implement program practices responsive to the identified needs of an individual child.
- Provide crisis intervention series for staff regarding a child’s behavior.
- Support staff with individual child behavior and classroom management.
- Provide one-on-one modeling or coaching for individual child support.
- Provide support for reflective practices.
- Advise and assist staff in linking to community resources and services.
- Educate providers and parents on children’s mental health issues.
- Facilitate staff providing referrals to parents for community mental health services.

Qualifications and training needs:

A. The early childhood mental health (MH) consultant must have:

- An understanding of social-emotional development of children in the early years of life and issues that may lead to more serious mental health concerns.
- Must be knowledgeable of child development and caring for young children in group settings, including knowledge of curriculum development, developmentally appropriate instructional practices, formative child assessment strategies and the Arizona Early Learning Standards.
- Must be fluent in the delivery of effective consultation. Johnston and Brinamen (2006) identify specific skills critical to effective mental consultation in early care and education settings.
- A master's degree or higher in one of the following disciplines: early childhood education, early childhood special education, social work, marriage and family counseling, educational psychology, psychology, clinical nursing with a mental health focus, or infant family practice.
- Consultants receive training and information regarding mandatory reporting. Arizona law requires mental health consultation staff who suspect that a child has received non-accidental injury or has been neglected, to report their concerns to Child Protective Services or local law enforcement (ARS §13-3620.A).
- Early childhood Mental Health Consultants will participate in continuing education to remain current and update skills and knowledge to meet the requirements of this scope of work as well as remain current on the literature and research related to the social emotional development of young children and the methods and approaches to providing mental health consultation in child care settings.

III. Cultural Competencies

Programs will also implement the following best practices and standards related to Cultural Competencies:

- To address cultural competency objectives, early childhood practitioners /early childhood service providers shall ensure that children and families receive from all staff members and program participants effective, understandable, and respectful care that is provided in a culturally competent manner. Early childhood practitioners /early childhood service providers should ensure that staff and participants at all levels and across all disciplines receive ongoing education and training in culturally and linguistically appropriate service delivery. Early childhood practitioners/early childhood service providers should develop participatory, collaborative partnerships with communities and utilize a variety of formal and informal mechanisms to facilitate community and family-centered involvement to ensure that services are delivered in a manner that is consistent with the National Standards on Culturally and Linguistically Appropriate Services and/or the National Recommendations on Cultural and Linguistic Competence for the National Association for the Education of Young Children.”
<http://minorityhealth.hhs.gov/templates/browse.aspx?lvl=2&lvlID=15>
<http://www.naeyc.org/positionstatements/linguistic>
- Service providers should understand individual Tribes/Nations are distinct and separate communities from other Tribes/Nations and their governmental systems and structures are not reflective of each other. Services to Tribal communities and on reservations must be provided in a manner compatible with the Tribe's/Nation's cultural beliefs and practices, to include the preferred language of the community. Services must also be provided in accordance with the Tribe's/Nation's laws, policies and procedures. The effectiveness of services is directly related to the provider's consideration of the beliefs, customs and laws of the Tribe/Nation.

- Service providers can obtain information about providing services on tribal lands from a variety of sources. These include the FTF Regional Coordinator, Regional Council members, tribal websites and publications, as well as official representatives of the Tribe/Nation such as the governing body, standing committees and authorized departments.
- It is highly recommended that service providers seek guidance from one or more of these sources before initiating services on reservations. Failure to do so could result in contraventions of cultural beliefs, Tribal laws or sovereignty.
- The ideal applicant will demonstrate their ability to operate within these parameters through prior experience working with Tribes/Nations, demonstrating that staff are culturally competent, partnerships with agencies serving Native American families, knowledge of cultural beliefs, customs and laws of the Tribe/Nation or a combination of these elements.
- Related to data collection, evaluation or research activities:
 - In the United States, Native American Tribes are considered autonomous nations with all of the rights and responsibilities of a nation. Understanding this, Native American Tribes are charged with protecting the health and safety of their people. To this end, Tribes have full ownership over any data collected within their reservation boundaries. This means that Tribes can allow or not allow any program to collect data from or related to any early childhood development and health program or activities on the reservation.
 - Any grantee implementing programs in tribal communities must have official tribal permission to collect and utilize sensitive data from or related to any early childhood development and health program or activities. Such data can include but not be limited to:
 - Morbidity and mortality among children members of their communities
 - Information regarding child safety and welfare
 - Information regarding children in foster care
 - Infectious and chronic disease information among members of their communities
 - BMI and healthy weight information beginning at age 2 years and each year after that

First Things First Target Service Unit Information

Mental Health Consultation

Definitions:

Unit of Service and related Target Service Number

A Unit of Service is a FTF designated indicator of performance specific to each FTF strategy. It is composed of a unit of measure and a number (Target Service Number).

A Unit of Measure/Service can be a target population and/or a service/product that a grantee is expected to serve as part of an agreement. Target Service Number represents the number of units (e.g. target population) proposed to be served or number of products/services proposed to be delivered during the contract year.

For example, for the FTF strategy Home Visitation the FTF Unit of Service is “number of families served” and a Target Service Number of 50 represents the number of families the program proposes to serve during the contract period. All FTF applicants must clearly state in the proposal a target service number for each strategy specific Unit of Service.

For Mental Health Consultation, the units of service are:

- Number of home based providers served
- Number of center based providers served
- Number of tuition reimbursements distributed

Determining and Interpreting Target Service Numbers

Number of home based providers served should reflect the total number of home based early care and education providers who are targeted to be served by a Mental Health Consultant for one grant contract period (in most cases, one year).

Number of center based providers served should reflect the total number of center based early care and education providers who are targeted to be to be served by a Mental Health Consultant for one grant contract period (in most cases, one year).

Number of tuition reimbursements distributed should reflect the total number of tuition reimbursements to be distributed for one grant contract period (in most cases, one year).

Performance Measures

Performance Measures measure (1) key indicators of performance (i.e. Unit of Service); (2) basic implementation of strategy; (3) alignment of program activities to strategy specific standards of practice, (4) performance or progress toward pre-established strategic goals. Performance measures may include the level or type of program activities conducted (e.g. serving families/children through home visits) and/or the direct services and products delivered by a program (e.g. providing scholarships).

For Mental Health Consultation, performance measures are:

Number of home based providers served/proposed service number

Number of center based providers served/proposed service number

Number of tuition reimbursements distributed/proposed service number

Number of early care professionals receiving professional development

Number of professional development sessions offered

Number of programmatic and individual action plans implemented

Number of children referred for clinical and assessment services

First Things First - Arizona Early Childhood Development and Health Board Data Security Guidelines and Requirements for Collaborators

BACKGROUND:

The purpose of First Things First is to aid in the creation of a system that offers opportunities and supports for families and communities in the development of all children so they can grow up healthy and ready to succeed. Our work is accountable and transparent to decision-makers and the citizens of Arizona. Collaboration and direct funding of grantees to undertake work on behalf of the children and families of Arizona is fundamental to the purpose and mission of FTF. Regular submission of data related to funded work is an important part of ensuring accountability and maximum positive impact for young children.

Data Security Guidelines for Data Submission to FTF

The Arizona Early Childhood Development and Health Board (First Thing First - FTF) will ensure that resources allocated have maximum impact for the benefit of children and families. To ensure this accountability, FTF will establish data reporting requirements for all state and regional grantees. All funded providers will regularly submit programmatic and financial reports as identified in the FTF reporting requirements.

FTF data submissions are classified in one of three levels:

- Public data
- Limited distribution data
- Confidential data

The majority of FTF reporting submissions are completed through the FTF Partner and Grants Management System (PGMS). Subsequent to the award of a FTF contract, the grantee will receive general training on login and navigation within the PGMS system. With this login the grantee will be able to manage their contract information. An additional training on strategy-specific data submission requirements will also be conducted. During that training the grantee will be informed on submission of data reporting requirements through PGMS. All data submitted through PGMS is public data or limited distribution data. Because PGMS is located in a secure extranet environment, grantees using PGMS for data submission are not required to undertake additional security measures related to their data submission above those identified in the general and data submission orientations (password and login security, guidelines for upload of narrative and other reports).

A small group of grantees submit data requirements, through agreement between the grantee and FTF, directly through the FTF extranet, rather than a PGMS web-based entry form. These data are likely to contain limited distribution data and must follow the following protocols. Data structure agreement, Login, ftp, revision request. Grantees that submit data through the FTF extranet must ensure that limited distribution data may not be intercepted or viewed at any time by parties other than the grantee and FTF and that throughout the reporting and submission process the data are secured.

Any grantee submitting data identified as confidential must file a formal data security policy with FTF.

Confidential data will not be a part of standard data submission requirements. Grantee general orientation and data reporting orientation will identify data requirements as public data, limited distribution data, and/or confidential data.

Data Security Guidelines for Grantee Maintenance of Data

In order to submit data to FTF in fulfillment of reporting requirements, grantees must keep all data collected for their program(s) within their system (database) or hardcopies. While FTF data submissions are generally aggregated and contain no individually identifying information, grantee data is likely to contain highly sensitive information on individuals, their education and their health. These guidelines and requirements are for the maintenance of those data.

All grantees must have a data security policy in force which identifies how the organization ensures that data is protected in all its forms, during all phases of its life cycle, from inappropriate access, use, modification, disclosure, or destruction.

All grantees subject to HIPAA, FERPA, GITA, or other data regulation, are required to submit and maintain those approvals for all data. If HIPAA, FERPA or other data regulation requires that participating individuals give consent to data collection on their person and if in the course of regular data submissions to FTF such data will be provided to FTF, submission of personal data to FTF must be reflected in all data regulation documents.
